MY STORY

Adrian Hunshammer is a Norwegian alpine ski racer who spent four years competing NCAA Division I for the University of Denver. He graduated Magna Cum Laude with a B.S.B.A. in Finance after earning NCAA All-American honors in skiing. Following graduation, Adrian returned to Norway to commit fully to professional alpine racing—pursuing the next step toward European Cup and, ultimately, World Cup competition.

THE 2026/27 PROJECT

Full-time alpine racing with SNØ-laget in Norway, competing internationally and pursuing opportunities at European Cup level and beyond.

The larger ambition: World Cup skiing.

BECOME PART OF THE PURSUIT

I am looking for ambitious partners who want to be part of the journey—through financial support, products, services or meaningful collaboration.
